NUMB. 2329

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9. 1742.

To the Right Hon. SAMUEL SANDYS, Esq; and the Right Hon. THOMAS WINNINGTON, Esq;

The Representation of the Corporation of Guardians in the City of Worcester, elected Annually, according to Act of Parliament, by the Paymasters in the several Parishes.

GENTLEMEN,

T is with much Reluctancy that we presume to take up a few Moments of your Time so precious, and of so great Consequence; but having seen in Print a Representation address'd to you, of so assuming, so menacing, and so indecent a Nature, so derogatory to your Honour and just Merits, so repugnant to Truth and Justice, and, we believe, disagreeable to almost all your Constituents, we think it our indispensable Duty, for the Sake of Strangers into whose Hands the said Representation may fall (being well assured it will meet with just Contempt from all Persons well affected to our present happy Establishment, and who have true Ideas of your Characters) thus briefly to trouble you with our Sentiments, in relation to your past and future Conduct, in that Station wherein you do us so much Honour, by representing us in Parliament.

And in the first place to You, Mr. Sandys, who have long been our Member (but always to the Mortification of most of those who joined in the aforesaid Address) we render you our hearty Thanks for your unwearied and constant Attendance in Parliament, and for your manifold Services there; which, we are firmly persuaded, have always been with a View to the Establishment of the present Royal Family, the improving and confirming our happy Constitution, the Interest of your Constituents, and the general Welfare of Great Britain. We do take the Liberty, Sir, to congratulate you on your advancement to those Places of Trust and Honour, which His Majesty hath conferred on you. We who have so long seen and experienced your Virtue, Prudence, Property, Justice, Honour, and strict Economy in Private life, cannot help flattering ourselves, that you will discharge those high and important Trusts committed to you with equal Affiduity, Candour, and Integrity, consistent with yourself.

And to You, Mr. Winnington, who have only represented us in the present Parliament, we much approve our Conduct, gratefully acknowledge your Service, and highly applaud your Espousal of those Principles of Liberty and Publick Spirit so essential to the Happiness of Citizens, and which are the distinguishing Characteristics of true Patriotism.

Gentlemen, Although we must own that our proper Province and that of our Brethren Addressers is, in the best Place to look well at home, and there to discharge our Duty in Sincerity and Truth to God and Man; yet instructing Superiors in Politicks is become so fathoming, we desire you will pardon our Freedom in taking some Liberty to remark, that as all who are not wilfully and maltreat, that by the wise Conduct of His Majesty (the Enlargement and Lengthening of whose Tranquillity we pray) by the vigorous Resolutions of both Houses of Parliament, and the prudent Administration of the Ministry, the Face of Affairs both at home and abroad are much changed for the better, and our Fears becoming Vassals to unbounded Ambition and the Projects of Universal Monarchy, are in some degree dispelled, so we humbly request that you will contribute your best Endeavours to compleat the glorious Work happily begun; and whatever additional Laws are requisite to confirm and strengthen British Liberty, so fair and valuable (although so wantonly sported with by many) we doubt not of your Concurrence therewith, Promotion thereof; wherein, Gentlemen, you will a lasting Obligation on us.

To which we the Guardians have affixed our Common Seal, at our General Court held in this City, December 2, 1742.

Scandalous Paper having been lately publish'd in several News-papers, in the Name of the Burgesses and Inhabitants of the City and Liberty of Westminster and reliev'd to the Right Hon. the Lord Viscount Percival Charles Edwin, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, which Paper contains Matter of a very Dangerous Criminal Nature, and has a manifest Tendency to excite Disturbances in this Kingdom, by appealing from the Legislature to the People, and in plain and express Terms threatening popular Commotion; It is thought proper to acquaint the Publick, That the publishing the same under the Names of the Burgesses and Inhabitants of the City and Liberty of Westminster, as abovemention'd, is an infamous Forgery, and a gross and impudent Imposture on their worthy Representatives, for that there never was any Convention of the Burgesses and Inhabitants of the said City and Liberty in their Burgesses-court to prepare or approve the said Paper, or any other Paper of the same Kind or Import whatever, which it was absolutely necessary there should have been to have made it their Act, or to have warranted the Printing and Publishing it under their Names; But, on the contrary, the said Paper, having been drawn up in a private and clandestine Manner, was produced, ready-prepared, at a Tavern-Meeting of a few low inconsiderable People, pack'd together for that Purpose, without any Authority or legal Summons for so doing, where there were but Two Burgesses and Two Assistants present out of Thirty-two Burgesses and Assistants of whom the Burgesses-court consists, and not One hundred and fifty Inhabitants out of at least Ten thousand who have a Right of voting for Members of Parliament for Westminster; Besides which it is notoriously known, that the principal Authors and Contrivers of this Daring and Outrageous Insult upon his Majesty and his Parliament are Men of desperate Fortunes and abandon'd Characters, the Promoters and Ringleaders of Riot and Disorder, and who have no other Shelter or Resource left, but in Popular Commotions and Publick Convulsion.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from France.

Bath, December 2, 1742.

THE Governors of the Hospital at Bath beg Leave to inform the Publick, that the Inconveniences already suffer'd by Persons resorting to the said Hospital for Admittance, without having received a Letter from the Register at their own Habitations, and bringing such Letters with them, according to the express Direction of the Act of Parliament, have oblig'd them to treat such Persons as Vandals; and that all Persons whatsoever, without Favour or Distinction, so offering themselves for the future, will be treated as the Law directs. This Act of Parliament has been publish'd to every Parish, and short plain Directions how the Persons desirous to be admitted are to proceed, publish'd for four Months in the publick Papers, at the great Expence of the Hospital, so that nothing but wilful Ignorance can be pleaded in this Case.

It is humbly hoped that this Alteration of our Scheme will be easily excused, on Account of that Fluctuation of publick Affairs, which has produced much greater Changes in Counsels of much more Importance.

THE Elements of ALGEBRA, in a New and Easy Method; with their Use and Application, in the Solution of a great Variety of Arithmetical and Geometrical Questions, by General and Universal Rules.
To which is prefix'd, An Introduction containing a succinct History of this Science.*

By Mr. NATHANIEL HAMMOND, of the Bank.

Extract from the Account of this Book in the Works of the Learned.

The World has long complained of the Want of a proper Introduction to Algebra. Some are so very concise, as if they were contrived not to teach but introduce a Teacher; others again are larger, but wrote with so little Condescension to the Understandings of such as are altogether unacquainted with the Science, that they are of very little Use to those who are most inclined to make use of them. Whence it comes to pass, that few find it practicable to make any Progress in Algebra without a Master, tho' certainly the Science in itself is far from surpassing a clear Head, and a tolerable Understanding.

The Design of this Treatise, which is of a reasonable Bulk, and which contains nothing which is not solid, and to the Purpose, is to assist such as are engaged in teaching Algebra with a regular Method, and a large Stock of Examples; so that their Scholars may find Employment in their Absence;
and to enable such as live in Country-Places, and must consequently want all other Tutors, except Books, to acquire such a Skill in this Science, as may enable them to spend a Portion of their Time agreeably in the Cultivation of their better Parts, and in rendering a natural Method of enquiry after Truth habitual.

The Treatise begins with a copious Explication of the Fundamental Principles of the Art, and of the Signs and Method of Notation used therein. The Author then proceeds to the several Rules, explaining them carefully and copiously in all their various Cases; so that with a moderate Attention it is simply impossible for a Person, who desires to be Master of Algebra, to miss of his End.

We never find this Writer advancing any thing out of its proper Place, or burthening the Mind of his Scholar with Rules, before they become necessary: He professes to have imitated the judicious Euclid in this Respect; and he has done it with equal Art and Felicity. By this means he has delivered the young Student in Algebra from that which is usually the most fatiguing Part of the Science, viz. The Doctrine of Surds, in the Manner in which it is usually taught. By the same Mean, he leads his Reader directly to Equations; and, by shewing him the Profit he will reap from this Science, encourages him to overcome all its Difficulties. But having thus laid a strong and rational Foundation, he moves more slowly through the rest of his Work, that whoever follows him, may be obliged to become Master of every Branch of the Art, so as to be a compleat Algebraist, before he quits his Book, and not a Smatterer.

Quadratic Equations, and the Art of managing Converging Series, the admirable Invention of the incomparable Newton, are here so clearly explained, and their several Cases so plainly set down, and so thoroughly explicated, that it may be truly said, there are no where else such Instructions to be met with. At the Clofe of the Book, we find abundance of Observations, necessary for enlightening such Minds as are willing to proceed still farther in analytic Discoveries;
so that considering the Compleat of this Work, and that too is very moderate, it is as complete as possibly can be expected: And he who is thoroughly versed in it, will find no great Difficulties, when he proceeds to sublimer Studies. The Language is plain and natural, the Book is more copious than any other in Examples, and the Illustrations of them are so full and clear, that it is impossible to mistake their Meaning.
